Coverage:

The session will help researchers in gaining the skills, knowledge, and confidence to publish papers in academic journals, ability to promote research outcomes through clearer written messages, reduced instances of ambiguity and rejections and an increased publication rate. It will also offer a glimpse into our hybrid and full OA journal portfolio, Dove Medical Press, and F1000Research, highlighting that there is a home for every piece of research at Taylor & Francis.

Speaker:

Victoria Babbit
Director of Research Development and Outreach

Victoria is the Director of Researcher Development and Outreach. She joined Taylor & Francis in 2008 and throughout the past decade has supported societies, editors and authors as they navigate the rapidly changing publishing landscape. Her work involves engaging with global researcher communities to build knowledge and capacity related to publishing and editorial activities. Prior to joining Taylor & Francis, Victoria was a post-graduate researcher within the field of Geography, focusing on migration, at the University of Washington in Seattle.
